Proverbs and "witty wise" sayings were enjoyed. Delightful refreshments were served in the diningroom. ### TALK OF THE TOWN

But Jericho Man Did Not Succeed in Ending It.
 Jericho, March 18.—Peter Pratt, who attained some notoriety last fall by forging a name on a note and trying to obtain the money in Burlington, and who is under sentence, but on probation, added another chapter to his life Thursday, when he tried to commit suicide. Soon after dinner he attempted to end his life by cutting his throat with a razor. He was unsuccessful and was not seriously injured. His father was notified and he was removed to his home, where he is under the care of a physician. His excuse for the deed is that he is tired of life.

BORN IN MONTEPELIER.

Mrs. John S. Buttles, Died Thursday Night in Rutland.
 Burlington, March 18.—Mrs. Marilla Whitcomb, wife of John S. Buttles, died at the City hospital in Rutland Thursday evening, following an operation.
 Mrs. Buttles was born in Montpelier, February 5, 1878. She came to Burlington in 1884 and made this city her home until her marriage to Mr. Buttles, May 23, 1901. She was a member of the Unitarian church.
 Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Robert, six years of age, and a brother, Fred W. Whitcomb, of this city. The funeral will be held at her Rutland home Monday at 1 p. m., and burial will be at Brandon.

The Statewide Result.

In another column we give some information in detail regarding the result of Tuesday's vote on the license question in different sections of the state. There were quite a number of changes, both ways, and the local option, or license, element comes out of the battle with one town less to its credit than was the case last year, twenty-eight municipalities going "wet" this time as against twenty-nine in 1910. License, therefore, has made no special progress, and the same can be said of the prohibition forces; each side has simply held its own. The closeness of the figures in certain instances points rather discreditably again at the stay-at-homes, who are so apt to take things for granted and neglect their duty in the premises. In our own county, Bethel and Reading join the "wet" contingent, while Stockbridge, which has been "wet" the past year, has tired of it and got into the "dry" column.
 Vermont sentiment on this important question, as far as one can judge from Tuesday's record, is where it was a year ago. A vigorously conducted referendum campaign might show different results; but until we get that we must take the March meeting figures as we find them and base our conclusions thereon.—Ludlow Tribune.

Hope for Cross-State Railroad.

The acquisition of the Montpelier & Wells River railroad by the New Haven interests may mean the building of the long hoped for "cross state" railroad, perhaps. At all events, it means that the war against the Grand Trunk system in New England is to be relentlessly pursued. Incidentally, it suggests to the good people of Vermont how fortunate it is for them and for all New England that a foreign corporation like the British-owned Grand Trunk is left to be at least one line of legitimate competition here in New England that Mr. Mellen cannot gobble up, and how important it is to them and to all New England that legislatures and laws should deal fairly with this great transportation interest that is now the people's only safeguard against a railroad monopoly otherwise destined to hold the whole six states in its clutches.—St. Albans Messenger.
